

McGILL'S MILITARY NOTEBOOK

By TOBY PALKER

When Walter Grenfell Conrad came to McGill as a freshman in 1936, he probably had never even dreamed of himself as he is today — a squadron leader in the Royal Canadian Air Force, holder of the Distinguished Flying Cross and Bar, and a fighter pilot with a distinguished record won in the skies above three continents.

In 1936, war to the Canadians indeed seemed remote. But when Conrad graduated with his Bachelor of Arts degree in 1940, with first class honours in Political Science, and second class honours in Philosophy, the storm had broken, and the path that lay before him became clearer. In August, when the Battle of Britain was deciding the destiny of mankind, perhaps for generations to come, he joined the Royal Canadian Air Force.

S/L WALTER G. CONRAD

While at McGill he was a well-known figure around the campus: he was class president 1938-1939; chairman of the Amalgamated Charities 1938; editor of the Annual 1939-1940; a member of the C.O.T.C. 1939-1940; chairman of Social Activities Committee 1939-1940; inter-faculty hockey 1936-1940.

The urgency of the need for air men at the time of his enlistment is reflected in the speed of his subsequent training: An AC2 in August 1940, he was commissioned as a Pilot Officer at Uplands in April, 1941; sailed overseas in May; and on arriving in England, was promptly posted for duty to a Fighter Squadron of the A.F. serving in the Middle East. He made the voyage from England to Gibraltar, and then on to Egypt, on that most famous ship of the Royal Navy, H.M.S. "Ark Royal."

Of Conrad's adventures during the next two years, only the outline is known. Attached for a time to No. 274 squadron and later to No. 145 squadron, R.A.F., he took a commendable part in the bitter and prolonged fight between the Luftwaffe and the Regia Aeronautica on the one side, and the R.A.F. on the other, for the control of the skies above the armies of the Western Desert.

The fact that he was promoted to Flying Officer in April, 1942, and to Flight Lieutenant two months later, was a testament to his skill and courage.

Craft Demonstrations Are Shown At 5th Arts and Crafts Exhibition

Display Now in Redpath Library Features
Macdonald Pamphlets and Tools;
Photographs and Paintings

The Arts and Crafts Exhibition opens today, in the gallery of Redpath Library. Besides the finished work, there will be an exhibition of "Craft Working," demonstrations of how various crafts are done. It will be held Wednesday afternoon and evening starting at 2.15 p.m., and is under the auspices of Dr. Crowell, Director of the Handicraft Division of Macdonald College.

Pamphlets and Tools. Pamphlets written and printed by the Macdonald Handicrafts Division, will be shown. They cover almost every craft work, and are on sale throughout the city, Canada and the States.

Macdonald makes its own handicraft tools, many of which are on sale. The metal tools, hard to find since the war, are made from scraps of steel, and discarded aluminium. The handles are hand-carved of wood.

Doodling In Wood.

Among the carving exhibits, are several serpentine coils, intertwined, yet loose, and carved out of one piece. The artist described them as "doodles in wood."

Other carving exhibits include household objects, masks, and are all on smooth, curved, modern lines. A pamphlet explains the process of carving.

The Weaving.

Macdonald College has evolved a new weaving process. It is "Finger Weaving," a method requiring no instruments. "Tatting," or ribbon braiding, and forming into rugs, has been perfected at the College, so that

Continued on Page Four.

Wilkes Dies At Toronto

Conservatory
Loses Head;
Noted Pianist

Toronto, Nov. 26.—(CUP)—Norman Wilkes, principal of Varsity's Conservatorium of Music, died here recently after a three weeks illness. A distinguished pianist, Mr. Wilkes played with the Boston Symphony orchestra and has been on tours around the world.

The late principal joined the staff of the Conservatory in 1928 and became executive officer in 1936. In 1941 he became Principal succeeding Sir Ernest MacMillan. He was born at Bichington, Kent, and won a singing scholarship for the Duke of Newcastle choir. He played for the Queen's Hall orchestra and the Royal Philharmonic and Continental orchestras in Belgium.

Continued on Page Four

"Preacher—Lecturer" Addresses Peoples' Forum

"A Christian View of Palestine" will be the subject of Henry A. Atkinson, at the Peoples' Forum this evening at 8.15 p.m., in the Montreal High School Auditorium, University Street.

Mr. Atkinson, Chairman of the Christian Council on Palestine in a Californian. He has had degrees conferred upon him by many leading American universities.

He is author of many books on social and economic questions, and joint author of "The Causes of War." His latest book "Prelude to Peace" has had "favourable and enthusiastic reviews" in both the religious and secular press. He is highly regarded as a preacher and as a lecturer.

BRIDGE CLUB MEETS TONIGHT

The McGill Duplicate Bridge Club will meet in the Union, tonight, at 7.30 p.m.

Only those who telephone in their names, to PL. 1674, before 6.30 p.m., today, will be eligible to play. It is expected that the night's playing will be over by 10.30. If a team does not appear, after sending in their names, they will be suspended for the remainder of the season.

Science Club Holds Meeting

Women to Hear
Dr. F. Smith
Guest Speaker

The Women's Science Club will hold its first meeting on Wednesday, Nov. 2, at 5 p.m. in the R.V.C. common room. Dr. F. Smith of the Bacteriology Department will speak on a subject to be announced later, as it is not known at present.

The Club stated that all those who are interested in any branch of science should attend the meetings this year. The topics to be discussed will be of general interest and no particular knowledge of science is necessary to enjoy them. Refreshments are served at every meeting.

The programme will be arranged to include a variety of subjects, but, in particular, a series of vocational talks will be given to help students who are not sure what fields are now open, or which they wish to enter on leaving the university. It is hoped to give the students a wider knowledge of available positions and necessary qualifications.

Lists will be posted in the Arts, Chemistry, Biology buildings and in R.V.C. It would be appreciated by the club if the girls intending to come would sign them.

J. Ross and Orchestra Play at Newman Dance

The Newman Club will hold its annual Christmas Dance in the Union Ballroom on Friday, December 8. Jack Ross and his orchestra will supply the music.

As in the past, the party is open not only to members of the club but also to all of their friends. The Freshmen Committee of the Newman Club plans to present a variety show. Refreshments will be served in the Grill Room until midnight.

Tickets will be available at a later date from the Newman Club Keymen and at the Union Tuck Shop.

SCHOOL OF SOCIAL WORK

Professor Lindeman, Head of the School of Social Work and Social Research at Columbia University will address a meeting at the Montreal School of Social Work on University St., at 4.30 p.m. this afternoon.

His speech this afternoon will deal with "Sociological Factors in Peace."

McGILL, U. of M. JOIN IN CONCERT

Redmen Face RCAF Flyers Tonight

New Star Jamieson;
Coach Bell Reveals
New Forward Lines

Tonight at the Forum the Redmen face the Air Force team in the third doubleheader in the series of popular National Defence Hockey League games. In the second game Navy opposes the Army team.

Coach Bobby Bell has announced a shake-up in his forward lines, and a new arrangement to give better balance to the club has been planned for tonight. "Red" Henderson will centre the Red line with Ward Pitfield and George Hale flanking on the wings.

More Balance

The White line will be centred by Johnny Costigan with Paul Gagnon and Chris Gallant on the wing attack. This new forward wall formation has been designed to give the team a more balanced set of lines and may prove the undoing of the newly improved Air Force squad.

A welcome addition to the Red and White squad this week is Ken Jamieson, who recently turned up for practices for the first time and so impressed Coach Bell that the rugged defenseman from Queen's has earned himself a position on the McGill team. Jamieson played for Queen's in Kingston recently and is reported, from advance notices, to have all the potentialities of a star in the tough local N.D.H.L. with the Redmen.

Gallant Moves Up

Chris Gallant has moved up from defense, with the addition of newcomer Jamieson, to the wing position on the White line with Costigan and Gagnon. Mingle and Jamieson have been paired off together as a unit on the defense to alternate with Bruce Ward and Bob Brodick. Tony Dobell will be in the nets as usual, with Norm Halford, Gordie Franks, and the Laytons on deck for the Redmen.

The Air Force has also added a few players to give the Flyers more polish and a better-balanced squad than that which fell to the Navy in the first game of the league two weeks ago. Last Monday the Flyers came through with a 7-4 victory over the Army through the capable efforts of the newcomers, wingman Sid Abel and Aulclair in the nets.

Abel Dangerous

Abel who played with the N.H.L. Detroit Red Wings for three successful seasons scored three goals and set up two others to give the Air Force the game. Virtually the whole show for the Flyers, Abel is

Continued on Page Four.

Jim Lambek Elected President

Professor Williams
Speaks on N. H. Abel

"Neils Henrik Abel, Norwegian mathematician," was the subject of a talk by Professor W. L. G. Williams before a meeting of the Junior Mathematical Club Friday afternoon. Speaking of Abel's early death at the age of 27, Professor Williams compared him to Keats and Shelley in having a promising career so suddenly cut short.

The talk was preceded by the election of the president. Following a novel plan, the two candidates gave short talks before the voting took place. Franz Edelman spoke on his concept of the purpose of the club, while Jim Lambek gave several interesting examples to prove his contention that imagination is necessary for a mathematician. Jim Lambek was then elected.

After a brief discussion of Abel's life, the speaker then demonstrated several of the discoveries and theorems which were made before Abel's death in 1829.

PISA AND SIENA UNIVERSITIES REOPEN

Rome, November 20. — Pisa and Siena, two of the oldest and most famous universities in the world, will re-open this week with the help of the Allies. Although the University of Pisa, which was flourishing in the twelfth century, was much damaged by the war, it has been repaired enough for use. The University of Siena, world famous since the fourteenth century, remained untouched by the war.

Students' Council And Scarlet Key Posts Announced

Several Positions Filled
By Acclamation Vote;
Others To Be Contested

Three of the eight possible representatives to the Students' Council have been elected by acclamation; Theology, Donald Brushett; Law, Marc Lapointe and Dentistry, Bruce Ward.

J. Hemens and I. Rosenfeld will contest the presidency of the Debating Union Society in the elections to be held Dec. 5.

The Scarlet Key, Group A, has had two positions filled by acclamation: Commerce, John C. Davey, Alan P. Mowes and William Wilder, Dentistry, George MacDougall.

Nominations from the faculty of Medicine in a group B, must be in to-day.

The list of nominations is as follows:

FOR THE STUDENTS' COUNCIL
Arts & Science
Bourne, Robert H.
Continued on Page Four.

I.V.C.F. Hears Denzil Raymer

Engineer-Pastor
Is Luncheon Speaker

Denzil Raymer will be the guest speaker at the next I.V.C.F. luncheon, to be held on Wednesday, Nov. 29th, at 1 p.m. in Student House, 3445 Peel street.

Mr. Raymer is a graduate in engineering of the University of Toronto, and is on the staff of the Dominion Bridge Company, as well as being pastor of Grace Church in Ville la Salle. His talk will be the fourth in the series, "I am persuaded..."

All those who wish to attend are asked to sign on the list now posted in Student House, but those who cannot get there in time to eat can come at 1.30, in time to hear the speaker. The meeting will be over in time for students to get to two o'clock lectures.

CANADIAN ART EX- HIBITION OPENED IN RIO DE JANEIRO

An extensive exhibition of Canadian art, including some 200 oils and watercolors by leading contemporaries of Canadian art, has been opened to the public of Rio de Janeiro in the Museum Bellas Artes.

The exhibition, opened Friday night under the auspices of the Canadian Ambassador, Jean Desy and his wife, was organized through the Canadian and Brazilian Foreign Offices, the Quebec provincial government, the National Gallery at Ottawa, and art galleries in Toronto and Montreal.

A formal opening was attended by representatives of the Brazilian government, social and cultural elements and members of the diplomatic corps. Meanwhile, the Rio de Janeiro municipal radio station, PRD-5, under orders of Mayor Henrique Dodsworth, organized a program of Canadian music for broadcast Sunday afternoon. The program, arranged in consultation with the Canadian Embassy, included typical compositions based on Canadian folklore.

University Talent Pays Tribute To Colleagues of War Areas; Proceeds Go to Student Relief

I.U.C. Sponsors Tonight's Concert

Varied Program Lists
Student Performers
In Classics

The announcement of the program for this evening's concert sponsored by the newly-formed Inter-University Club and scheduled to take place at 8 o'clock in the Union Ballroom shows a wide variety of student talent in a varied program of classical music.

De Guise Vallancourt, fourth med student of the U. of M. will act as master of ceremonies and the performers will be introduced in both French and English.

Program Listed

The University of Montreal contribution to the program is as follows:

Guy Coulu, tenor, student of Dental Surgery, who will sing: Andre Messager's "La Veille Maison Gris", Schubert's "Du?" and E. Charles "Let My Song Fill Your Heart." He will be accompanied by Mlle. T. Paquin.

Gilles Julien, pianist, science student, who will play: Robert Schumann's "Variations Serieuses" (studies in the form of variations).

Philippe Lagasse, violinist, med student, who will play: Jacob Jade's "Jalousie," E. Monti's "Czardas" and Franz Lehar's "Frasquita." The accompanist is Maurice Chartrand.

The vocal ensemble from "Radio Carabin" under the direction of Bernard Laramée, which will sing French Canadian folk songs.

From McGill come:

Maury Gelaand, violinist, fourth year science student, who will play "Paganini-Kreisler's Preludium and Allegro" and Schubert's "Ave Maria." Continued on Page Four

Hillel Ratifies Constitution

Plans Are Announced
For Future Classes

The Hillel Organization is holding a meeting for the purpose of ratifying the constitution, this afternoon at the Hillel rooms, 1443 Stanley St. at 5.15 p.m. This meeting is necessary as no definite decision could be reached at the previous one. The executive stated that it would like as many members as possible to attend.

The Hillel Study Group has underlined the events planned for the future. The first class in "Beginners Hebrew" will take place on Thurs. Nov. 30 at 3 p.m.; the Intermediate and Advanced Hebrew on Tues. Dec. 5 at 4 p.m.; Current Jewish Problem on Thurs. Dec. 7 at 5 p.m. and "Comparative Religion" which will commence in Jan. and will be under the leadership of notable Jewish figures of the community.

In addition, the committee stated, open forums have been planned to commence in January and these will feature speakers from the U.S. and Canada. It is also hoped that a Leadership and Social Welfare Group will be formed next term.

DEBATING SOCIETY MEETS TODAY

The McGill Debating Union Society will hold a meeting at 5 p.m. today in the Union Grill Room. One of the main objects of this meeting is to hear Jim Hemens' report of the meeting of the Inter-University Debating League, held at Queen's University over the week-end. The meeting is opened to the representatives of the different faculties.

Sings Tonight

Daily News.

BARBARA SCOTT of the McGill Conservatory of Music who will sing in this evening's inter-university concert. She sang at the R.V.C. House opening this fall. In 1940, she sang the lead in Strauss' "Waltz Dream" when it was produced by the Verdun Choral and Dramatic Society. Tonight she will sing Franz Lehar's "Villia", Dvorak's "Songs My Mother Taught Me", and Charles Spross' "Yesterday And Today." She will be accompanied by Mrs. Victor Knowles.

Trip to Mexico To Be Discussed By McGill Student

International Relations Club
Hears Brecher

Karine Collin
"Mexico" will be the topic of Michel Brecher's speech to the International Relations Club at a meeting to be held in the Union Grill Room, Thursday, at 8 p.m.

This talk is the first given by a student at McGill on the trip to Mexico of 125 Canadians. Continued on Page Four

Newman Alumni Dance Held in Union Friday

The Alumni of the Newman Club held its first dance of the season in the McGill Union Ball Room last Friday evening from 9.00 p.m. to 1.00 a.m.

Jack Ross and his orchestra provided the music for dancing. Refreshments were served in the Grill Room during the dance until midnight.

An executive of the club said that the dance has proven as one of the most successful, and that such events will be repeated throughout the year.

Patrons Include Faculty Members

Union of Cultures
To Honor Students
In Armed Forces

Tonight's Inter-University concert in the Union Ballroom at 8 o'clock, bringing together outstanding musical talent from McGill and the University of Montreal, will divide the proceeds of the collection which replaces the customary admission charge between the McGill I.S.S. and the U. of M.'s Federation Canadienne des Universitaires Catholiques. Patrons of the concert include Professors MacLennan, Martin, Laviolette, Simard, Labarre; and Daniel Johnson, president of the Caisse de Secours aux Etudiants Victimes de la Guerre.

'Theme' Announced

"The theme of the concert," announced a member of the I.U.C. executive, "is the uniting of French and English-speaking students to show their sympathy for what their colleagues have suffered in the war-devastated countries of the world, and their appreciation for Canadian students who left the universities in the midst of their studies to join the Armed Forces." Because a collection in aid of world student relief is replacing the usual admission charge, the executive ask students to arrive early. Seats will be reserved only for the patrons, the faculty members and the press.

The money collected will be divided evenly between the student relief organizations at McGill and at the U. of M. At McGill, the International Students' Service has each year run a campaign to provide in some measure for students of Europe who have sought to carry

Continued on Page Four

Film Society To Present Double Feature Today

Today at 5 o'clock in Room 250, Biology Building, the Film Society of the Campus will be showing a double feature, consisting of "The Labor Front" and "Satan's Playground."

"Labor Front" is one of the "Canada Carries On" series produced by the National Film Board. This film deals with problems encountered in gear-ing Canadian industry, for all-out war effort. It gives a factual account of the organization of man power up to the present and looks towards the rehabilitation of returned men in post-war jobs. "Satan's Playground" is a documentary film of the "travelogue" type. Its scenes show the fantastic scenery and the wild life of Death Valley.

Around the Globe

Washington: Secretary Cordell Hull, because of ill health, has informed President Roosevelt that he will not be able to return to his desk in the Department of State and the President is giving attention to the selection of a successor, it was learned today.

However, Mr. Hull is still Secretary of State, has submitted no formal resignation and likewise none has been accepted by the President, it was authoritatively stated in official quarters.

Paris: The United States 1st Army seized the fortified town of Weisweiler today and drove the Germans from a height in the eastern edge of Hurtgen Forest, 4 1/2 miles from the Roer river fortress of Duren, major barrier to the Allied push toward the Rhine.

The enemy's defences at the approaches to the Cologne plain were bending under the hammer blows of Gen. Eisenhower's great winter offensive. But there still was no hint of a collapse, Don Whitehead, Associated Press war correspondent, reported.

London: Gen. Sir Harold Alexander has been made a field marshal and appointed to succeed Gen. Sir Henry Maitland Wilson as supreme commander in the Mediterranean theatre, it was announced tonight.

Ottawa: Dissolution of this nineteenth Parliament within the next two weeks is still regarded as a possibility, even by some members of the Liberal Party who recognize that this is a moribund Parliament and that the people themselves have already taken over the job of deciding the issue.

Around the Campus

Today: Arts and Crafts Exhibition opens in Redpath Library. . . . 4.30: Prof. Lindeman at Montreal School of Social Work on "Sociological Factors in Peace." . . . 5 p.m.: Film Society's showing of "Labor Front" and "Satan's Playground" in Room 250 of Biology Building. . . . 7 p.m.: S.C.M. discussion by J. L. Bieler on "The Role of the Engineer in Wartime" at 3574 University St. . . . 8.15 p.m.: People's Forum features Henry A. Atkinson on "A Christian View of Palestine" in Montreal High School Auditorium. . . . 8 p.m.: Inter-University Concert in Ballroom of McGill Union. . . . Bridge Club meets in Union; members requested to phone (see elsewhere on this page) before 6.30 p.m. . . . 8.15 p.m.: Hockey Redmen face Air Force at Forum, and Navy meets Army.

Tuesday: Blood Donor Cards must be handed in before 5 p.m.

Wednesday: Senior Basketball games at Gym at 8.15 p.m.

Thursday: 8 p.m.: International Relations Club in Grill Room of McGill Union.

Friday: Athletics Festival II at Gym features basketball game with St. Lawrence University. . . . Cortez-Sabbath wrestling and other events. . . . Blake Sewell's orchestra.

McGill Daily

THE OLDEST COLLEGE DAILY IN CANADA

President, Canadian University Press

Published every week-day during the college year at 690 SHERBROOKE ST. W. Telephone LANcaster 2244.

Opinions expressed below are those of the Managing Board of the McGill Daily and not the official opinions of the Students' Society.

H. A. RICHTER.....Editor-in-Chief
MAY EBBITT.....Managing Editor
VICTOR C. GOLDBLOOM.....Feature Editor
CHARLES WASSERMANN.....News Editor
ALLAN KNIGHT.....Sports Editor
G. H. FLETCHER.....Advertising Manager

ASSOCIATE EDITORS
C.U.P. Editor.....Ben Albert
Women's News Editor.....Doreen Willerton
Assistant Features.....Bill Weintraub
Assistant Sports.....Simon Garber
Assistant C.U.P. Editor.....Arnold Schrier
Daily Staff Photographer.....Peter Hall

News Sports
Dorothy Hopton.....Arnold Chalkin
Tom Buck.....Herb Shayne
Lya Popper.....Norman Wolfe
Bernie Leffell.....Stanley Guttman
Eleanor Hanna.....Bob Sabloff

IN CHARGE OF THIS ISSUE
News Sports
Lya Popper Bob Sabloff

SENIOR REPORTERS
Armelle Penverne, Dick Topkins
CUB REPORTERS
Rosa Gualtieri, Althea McCoy, Alex Cherney, Jo Jensky.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1944
Vol. XXXIV. No. 40

The Rake's Progress

By Mulligan

The Owl and the Case Of the Empty Bottle

Continued

The babel of voices increased, and a rowdy song grew in cadence as they approached:—
"Gather 'round, ye plumbers fair,
And look for beer that isn't there!
That's the way our beer might be,
If we'd not hanged him from a tree . . .!"
At that moment, a banging at the far end of the room brought the Owl to his senses. "Help help!" he shrieked, flinging open the window. "Black marketeers are trying to steal this week's supply of Houp-La! I am striving to hold them back! Rescue!"

The outraged engineers needed no further prompting. Visions of a diminished gallanage of Houp-La drove them in angry swarms over the high walls of the Rotguttersnary Breweries, amid the dying shrieks of eviscerated mobsters. In a moment, barrels and hogsheads of Houp-La were rolled out, and one of the most celebrated Plumber Bachanals in the history of McGill University begun.

But all was not well for the Owl. As he slipped out of the tap-room, he suddenly felt his feet leave the ground, and the scruff of his collar tighten. In a trice, he found himself blinking with fright into the fierce piggy eyes of Egbert O'Buttle. "Oho ha", snorted the captor, shaking the Owl till his teeth rattled. "So you're the guy who ruined my plans, eh? Mayhem's too good for you, you chingling freak. I've got a cute idea for rubbing you out, you gangling ninny. I'm gonna put you at the bottom of the old man's elevator shaft, then cut the cable when the cable is at the top floor! Haul! Think of how you'll squish, my friend! You'll be flatter than a flounder!" With these encouraging words, he pushed the squealing Hibou through the cleaning-door at the bottom of the shaft, and slammed it to.

The Bat had looked everywhere for the Owl. The fact that Egbert's body was not to be found among the torn remains of the others; and that beer was being consumed in vast quantities without the Owl's being around—made him profoundly suspicious. With an uneasy heart he was ambling forlornly along one of the passages in the Administration wing, when suddenly a huge figure dashed past him, roaring up the stairs six at a time. "Good Lord," gasped the Bat, quaking at the knees, "that was Egbert! I hope he didn't see me!" But Egbert had not seen the Bat. He was chasing up to the top floor, to drop a one-ton elevator on the wretched Owl.

At that moment, old Aristotle O'Buttle,—having assayed enough figures and done enough after-office work to catch up on his conscience—sauntered into the elevator. Just as the exasperated Egbert reached the top floor, down went the conveyance! Realizing that his sire had foiled his scheme, he roared down the four flights of stairs to the first floor in order to catch the elevator and take it to the top again. Unfortunately for him, O'Buttle Sr.—his kidneys not being what they used to be—had stopped off on the third floor, in order to use the facilities thereon.

All this careering up and down, however, had meanwhile aroused the suspicions of the hidden Bat. Resolving to get to the bottom of the mystery, he jumped into the elevator, and proceeded downwards with caution. As the machine crawled towards the first floor, a loud quaver of terror reached his ears from below. Some chord in the frightened wall struck him as familiar, as he hastily pressed the emergency button; the hunch proving correct when he opened up the trap on the floor of the elevator to behold a near-petrified Owl huddled at the bottom of the shaft.

Time and Tide

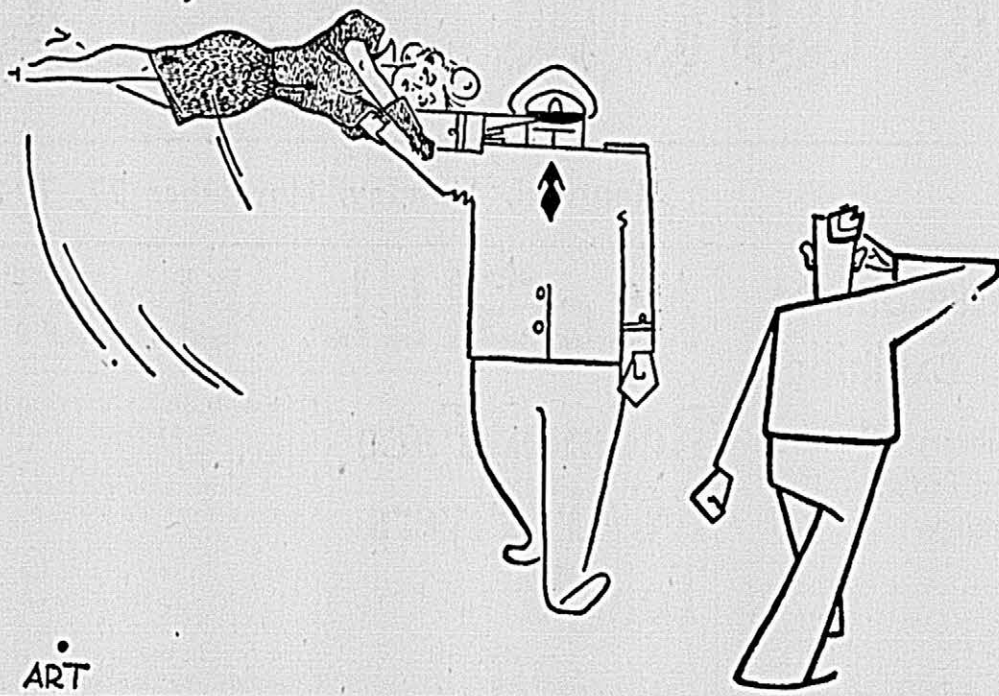

The Santa Claus Parade

There was a Santa Claus Parade last Saturday . . . gaudy, tinsel brilliance, and all sorts of impossible wonderful creatures prancing along very mysterious and completely out of this world. Probably very few of us noticed it, or even remember the days when such things were important; people grow up and learn to face the importance of reality, and even become a little contemptuous of the crowds of beaming children, oblivious of the chill wind and their chapped cheeks, for whom nothing is important for the moment but to gaze wide-eyed at parades.

There is something wonderful in the naive impressionism which makes one able to live for the moment, and to regret its passing, and to treasure all the childish technicolor memories that children value; there is something that children, and only children possess . . . the ability to see wonder in the world; and while they perhaps do not undergo such moving emotional experiences as more mature people . . . still, they do not analyze, they have no need for philosophy, they merely accept what they will, and are thrilled to the very core of their childish spirits by things which have become commonplace to us. They can stand for hours in the cold, straining on tiptoe for a glimpse of Santa Claus . . . they can believe implicitly in the impossible.

We have given most of that up; we have problems that must be faced and decisions to make which are permanent . . . we are playing for keeps . . . and though not one of us would exchange our present responsibilities permanently for the carefree childish existence, which, though it may suffer acutely at times, is relieved by the momentary transient quality of pain for the young, and forgets, and passes on to something new and more thrilling . . . still, all of us at one time or another miss our departed freedom of childhood . . . when we could stand in a chilling wind and stare at a laughing, tipsy Santa Claus . . . and not notice that we shivered until long afterwards.

The Daily's Cartoon

Reviews of Current Movies

AT THE CAPITOL

Although deleting some of the spicier parts of the book, Paramount's adaptation of Cornelia Otis Skinner and Emily Kimbrough's Our Hearts Were Young and Gay has not lost the spark of spontaneous humor that the authors have imbued into it. Possibly due to the Hays Office or even Quebec censorship, the film was cut so that no controversial issues could be introduced.

In the title roles of Cornelia and Emily, Gail Russell and Diana Lynn succeed in portraying that unsophisticated type of young womanhood of the early twenties—commonly known at that time as "flappers." Aided and abetted by Charles Ruggles and Dorothy Gish as Poppa and Momma Skinner, the two girls pursue a young man from the States across the Atlantic to Europe and by so doing get themselves into hot water every step of the way. Result—a very amusing, though romantic, comedy.

The cast was well chosen and managed to convince the reviewer that he was travelling with them—the background shots were very well done—London and Paris scenes truthfully reproduced and even the accents were as they should be.

Footnote before leaving—Paramount heads were so pleased with the pre-release showing of the film that they cancelled the authors' return to New York and set them to work on a sequel.

"Take It Big" with Jack Haley, occupying second billing on the program, is a typical Hollywood musical with a plot conceived in desperation. Though it is the usual sort of mediocre plot, it redeems itself by a few new twists, not to mention the immense aid of Ozzie Nelson and his band and "Pansy" the Horse. One of the surprises of the film is a fine rendition of "Figaro" from Donizetti's Barber of Seville by one of the incidental characters, evidently a Metropolitan Opera product.

Interlude in the form of a technicolor Popeye cartoon and the latest newsreel help to balance the program.

—T. E. B.

AT LOEW'S

David O. Selznick's portrayal of America's adaptation to war, "Since You Went Away," now in its second week at Loew's, is drawing capacity crowds, and deservedly. The story is a simple one, and a common one, unfortunately, in the experience of too many people; in outline, it treats of the sufferings of a family unused to sacrifice after the head of the house, a middle-aged businessman leaves for the army; there is the desolation of loneliness and loss for the mother, portrayed nobly, a little too nobly, by Claudette Colbert . . . and there is the growing-up of the older girl, Jennifer Jones, who falls in love and loses her boy at Salerno and has the courage to face her loss bravely . . . and interspersed through the story are the little touches that relieve the picture of the odium of unsubtle sentimentality . . . the double morality of the so-called "patriotic women" who "do everything for the boys" as long as they enjoy it themselves . . . the cruelly human sadness of people who must face the inexorable finality of train schedules and telegrams.

However, the appeal of the picture lies frankly in its sentimentality; in fact, one wonders at the fact that the human mind can stand so much suffering for an intangible ideal. However, people all over the universe are living through the scenes of "Since You Went Away," and perhaps they derive consolation and encouragement from the realization that they are not alone in their misery; this picture is harrowing, but it is also encouraging and triumphant. In any event, one is still left to ponder the eternal "why?"

AT THE PALACE

"Arsenic and Old Lace," Frank Capra's movie production of the famous stage play, is a fantastic combination of fun and fear. The scene is set in the heart of Brooklyn and the time is Halloween. Two dear old ladies, Abbie and Martha Brewster, played by Josephine Hull and Jean Adair, have decided to be merciful to the lonesome old men who find their way into their home by dosing them with a delicious mixture of Elderberry wine, arsenic, strychnine and "just a pinch of cyanide."

This procedure works well until their nephew Mortimer Brewster, played by Cary Grant, invades their peaceful domain and does not agree with their views. A second nephew Jonathan Brewster, played by Raymond Massey, with a strong facial resemblance to Boris Karloff, arrives and becomes jealous of his aunts who have chalked up a score of 12 by staying in Brooklyn while he has wandered all over the world and as yet has only equalled that score. He attempts to beat it by trying to do away with his brother, Mortimer. Mortimer succeeds in blaming the graves of the old men in the cellar of the house on an insane Uncle Teddy, and gets him safely stowed away with other Napoleons and Roosevelts and the Aunts, fortunately, decide to go with him to keep him company. Jonathan is done away with by being recognized as wanted for murder. Mortimer discovers that he is not one of the family, but a son of a sea-cook, and therefore cannot possibly inherit the strange traits of the Brewsters, so he goes merrily off on his honeymoon with Elaine, his bride, played by Priscilla Lane and continues in his hitherto peaceful life of theatre critic.

This is a truly capricious story. Extremely comical scenes of Cary Grant's gift for facial expression are interspersed with creepy scenes of a squeaky window seat lid, gleaming eyes and a howling cat.

The program is rounded out with an inconspicuous short called "Hear the Bands" and a Merrie Melodies

Continued on Page Four.

Little Symphony

Max Pirani will be the soloist at the Hermitage tomorrow night when he will play the Piano Concerto No. 3 by Beethoven in the all-Beethoven concert to be presented by the Little Symphony of Montreal. Mr. Pirani, noted Australian-born pianist, is well-known throughout England and the United States, and has recently been appointed Professor of Music at the University of Western Ontario. The other works on the program will be the Symphony No. 1, the overture to the ballet, "The Creatures of Prometheus," and the first six of the set of twelve Contra-dances. Bernard Naylor, permanent director of the orchestra will conduct.

Les Amis de l'Art

Mrs. Hector Perrier, president and founder of the association Les Amis de l'Art, has just been advised by the Provincial Secretary that L'Ecole du Meuble, 1097 Berri Street, will need the offices occupied by the association on January 1st, 1945.

The association having proven that its work as an educational and artistic endeavour has been successful, appeals to everyone interested in its aim to help to find suitable space so that it may continue the good work started in 1942. Should the association be unable to find the necessary office space, it will be obliged to discontinue indefinitely its activities.

"Sweet Caps are swell!"

The boys overseas write—you should see our flies! . . .

You'll enjoy them too! Buy a package today.

SWEET CAPORAL CIGARETTES

"The purest form in which tobacco can be smoked"

A Complete Modern and Efficient Banking Service

At no time is it more essential to have safe pocket funds than when travelling or on a vacation. A part of our banking service is to aid you in safeguarding the funds you carry by issuing Travellers' Cheques.

THE CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE

You are cordially invited to meet

Mr. Dyson Carter

well-known Canadian Scientist and Author, who will be the guest of the

Victory Book Shop

265 St. Catherine Street, West

on Tuesday, November 28th, from 4 to 7 p.m.

Mr. Carter will be pleased to autograph any purchase

LEARN TO DANCE

With

Geo. W. Shefler

Montreal's Ace Dance Instructor

JIVE-SWING-WALTZ-RUMBA

Special Rates for Students

1827 St. Catherine St. W.—Fl. 1242

NOMINATIONS

The date for receiving nominations from the Faculty of Law for Group A Scarlet Key has been extended to Today, Nov. 27th, 2.30 p.m. Two nominations are required.

The date for receiving nominations from the Faculty of Medicine has been extended for Group A and Group B Scarlet Key.

3 more nominations are required for Group A.

3 nominations are required for Group B.

From the Sidelines . . .

by
Bob Sabloff

In reply to a request to explain this Friday's Athletics Festival II we are going to reveal a few behind the scenes facts as to how the whole entertainment is going to work out. Since it is almost certain that we are all going up to the Gym for the show (for even the principal, Dr. James (see cut right) is reported to be planning for the event again), we spoke last night to Dick Balfour, chairman of the Athletics Committee, to get the inside track.

ATHLETICS FESTIVAL II

Last year about this time at one of the meetings of the Students' Athletic Council the brilliant idea arose for an evening of Athletics demonstrations to precede a Blake Sewell dance. This was something new in McGill but the idea clicked from the start. The Committee first contacted Middlebury College in Vermont to send up the basketball team to play the Redmen. Then the various coaches and managers of the Athletics Association here were asked to make up a team and plan a series of more interesting events for the display. Em Orlick of the Gymnasts, Tommy Parr of Boxing, George Tully of the Fencers, Joe Sabbath of the Wrestlers and Bob Wallace of the Judo Club all agreed.

Blake Sewell agreed to play for the dance which was to follow. All was set for the evening and a wealth of publicity material was distributed to the McGill students and also around various parts of the city to get the sports minded patrons. All clicked off like clock-work and the show drew the biggest crowd of the year. The same arrangements have been made for this Friday at the Gym and it is a certainty that the results will be many times better.

CORTEZ-SABBATH STOLE SHOW

Surprise of the evening was the Joe Sabbath-Carlos Cortez wrestling match which stole the whole show. The rough-house tactics of the Mexican contrasted to the more scientific display of Med student Sabbath proved the most thrilling and spectacular display of the show. (See picture on the right for Dr. James view of the proceedings.) At considerable expense to the Committee these two have been rematched in a grudge battle and the fight has been moved up on the card as a co-feature with the basketball game.

The University of St. Lawrence of Canton, New York, has been contacted and has agreed to match their famous basketball squad of American Navy V-12 trainees with the McGill Redmen. The St. Lawrence sailors come up with a very great reputation as one of the better Eastern American teams, ranking probably in the first ten teams of the East. Coach Van Wagner has led his Redmen charges through many stiff workouts in preparation for the exhibition game.

ST. LAWRENCE U. CAGERS

Here's how the show is going to unfold Friday night. Stands have been erected all around the Gym to accommodate the crowd which is expected to be seated and ready for 8 o'clock. The St. Lawrence team and the Redmen start their game at that time. At the other end of the gym from the basketball court a boxing ring will be erected so that Tommy Parr's boys can stage their four bouts. These fights will be staged at the same time as the basketball game.

Following the Boxing there will be two wrestling matches (not the Cortez-Sabbath brawl) which will precede a series of dangerous Judo matches which will feature George Schneider and his cohorts. Em Orlick and his Gymnastic group will set up their triple bar apparatus for their series of breathtaking swoops and glides.

Meanwhile a Fencing demonstration under the direction of Olympic star George Tully and a startling display of weightlifting by coach Charles Walker and the star of the show Carlos Cortez will take place during the half time intermission of the basketball game. At the close of the basketball game all the above events will have come to a close and all interest will be focussed upon the final feature bout of the evening—the Joe "Doc" Sabbath-Carlos Cortez wrestling match.

DANCING TO BLAKE SEWELL

This match will conclude the Athletics program and is expected to conclude about 10.15 p.m. At that time the floor will be cleared of all apparatus, the doors will swing open to reveal the bandstand, Maestro Blake Sewell will mount the podium, raise his baton, and the dancing will commence. Later in the show Shirley Culley and the dancing group The Martlets will put on their feature during an intermission in the dancing.

All in all a very full interesting evening, combining thrills, chills, wonderful scientific displays and rugged bouts. And all for only six bits!!!

Women's Swimming Trials Announced for Wednesday

The manager of the Women's Swimming Club announced yesterday that the first try-out for the inter-collegiate team will take place this Wednesday afternoon in the Knights of Columbus pool, 1191 Mountain St. It was reported that anyone interested should come to the pool between 4-6.30 p.m. and try out.

It is hoped that there will be two teams this year. This means that everybody will be able to swim. This is to be the first lay-out, and the second one will be held at the first swimming meeting after Christmas vacation.

Plans for this year include inter-section and inter-collegiate meets and possibly a meet with the services.

Co-ed (to boy friend, who was driving wildly down the road): For heaven's sake, use both hands. B.F.: Can't. Need one to steer with.

—Argosy.

HOCKEY at the FORUM

National Defence Hockey League

Monday, Nov. 27, at 8 p.m.

2nd game:

McGill vs. Air Force

1st Game:

Army vs. Navy

Tickets at Forum
Price 25c

Class Cage League

Loop Starts Wednesday
States Coach

It has been requested by Athletics Coach Van Wagner that all managers of class basketball teams contact him at the Sir Arthur Currie Gymnasium. It is necessary that the Athletics Faculty be advised of the number of teams whose intentions to play in the league this year are now definite.

The idea of a class basketball league, if properly supported, can be an extremely satisfactory substitute for the inter-collegiate basketball of former years. It would indeed be regrettable if such a league did not receive the backing it so richly deserves.

It is expected that the schedule of this league will get under way in the early part of this week. Mr. Van Wagner wishes to stress the importance of immediate action by the various managers on behalf of their teams in order that all the squads may be in proper shape and condition for the games they are to play. Before the Christmas vacation begins it is desirable to have the first round of the league season completed.

R.V.C. Sports Roundup

By Anne Hughes

In response to a great demand on the part of the students, the M.W.S.A.A. will institute a series of ski-conditioning lectures, to begin on Friday, December 1st, at 4 p.m. in the R.V.C. Upper GYM. There will be three lectures in all each Friday until DECEMBER 15th, to put the skiers and would-be skiers in trim for the coming season. There is a list posted on the M.W.S.A.A. bulletin board, and those who feel the need of preliminary exercise before the season opens are invited to sign up.

Skiing

Also about skiing—there will be a meeting of the competitive skiers this coming Wednesday, November 29th at 7.30 p.m. in the Union Music Room. This does not mean that you have to be another Hannes Schneider to enter the contests, in fact you don't have to have raced before. All that's asked is that you can ski. So if you feel like trying out your ski-legs against other racers, come along to the Music Room on Wednesday and find out the details.

In basketball this week, A section will play against D, and E will battle G on Friday December 1st. Last Friday, B triumphed over C, and F came off with the honors against G. Incidentally there will be another tryout for the McGill Team this coming Saturday morning between 9 and 11. Prospective candidates who find it impossible to attend this session are asked to contact Bobby Fenton at R.V.C.

The swimming schedule unfortunately did not make the timetable published last week, so this is just a reminder that the club meets on Wednesday between 4 and 6.30 at the Knights of Columbus pool. Life saving lessons are being given at the same time.

There will be a beginners archery tournament on Thursday, November 7th, between 4 and 6 in the R.V.C. Lower Gym. A beginner is classed as anyone who has started archery since June, so don't be afraid too much of the competition. The tournament is all shot off on the same day, so if interested, contact Isabel Clay at Strathcona Hall.

The Ping Pong tournament is entering its third round which has to be played off before November 30th.

Last Friday night there was a close, hard fought basketball game between R.V.C. and Strathcona Hall, in which the Strathcona team narrowly edged out the R.V.C.-ites by a score of 46 to 42. The victors on the Strathcona team were Isabel Clay, Evelyn Jessup, Lois Smith, Marcela Parkinson, Jean Fitzpatrick, Margaret Johnston and Betty Chapman, while upholding the honor of R.V.C. were Bobby Fenton, Jeanne Vigneux, Marie Mottola, Gertrude Peters, Elizabeth Edwards and Margaret Duguid.

Football Notice

It has been announced that on Monday, December 4th, this year, the Annual Rugby Banquet will take place in the Union Grillroom at 6.30 p.m. It is requested that all Rugby players who have as yet not signified their intentions to attend this banquet and wish to do so get in touch with the Rugby manager as soon as possible at P.L. 7385.

EVEN THE PRINCIPAL LIKED IT . . .

Among the patrons of the Athletics Festival last year was DR. CYRIL JAMES, Principal and Vice-Chancellor of the University (under arrow). Flanked by several stalwart Scarlet Key members, he seems to be enjoying himself, as he watches the wrestling match between Carlos Cortez and Joe Sabbath, which proved such a success last year.

Profanity Is Rule Rather Than Exception: Frank Saxon Referees as Contract Signed

History was made in the annals of the McGill sporting world last week. After a month of wrangling and controversy, final papers have been drawn up for the wrestling match of the year, the Sabbath-Cortez grudge fight. Arguments, especially during the last few days, have been fast and furious, with insults and caustic comments being bandied back and forth with tornado-like gusto. On several occasions it was necessary to restrain Cortez from coming to blows with his opponent to be. Language was used by both parties and their managers that would hardly have met with the approval of anyone whose sensibilities are in the least delicate.

Saxon Referees

As previously reported, and as Daily readers already know, much of the discussion centred about the choice of a suitable referee, one who would be certain to give both of the boys an even break. Several mentors were approached and apprised of the state of affairs, and it is worthy of note that all refused very tempting offers on the very logical grounds that money is no use to a dead man. They referred, of course, to the very rough treatment accorded the referee of last year's match, whose leg never did heal properly. At length, however, the services of the fearless and experienced veteran Frank Saxon, were secured, himself a powerfully built man perfectly capable of keeping order in a ring.

The cut above shows the extraordinary fact that the manly art of wrestling is equally appreciable by those who ordinarily concern themselves with more elevated pursuits. Our principle, Dr. James, seems to be really enjoying himself. Indeed, most of the patrons of last year's Athletics Festival express themselves as being singularly impressed with the bout staged by Sabbath and Cortez.

Weightlifter Cortez

It has also been previously reported that the great Mexican champion will do his warmup training in the presence of the audience. This is to consist of a startling exhibition of scientific bodybuilding accompanied by a performance of weight-lifting. On the other hand his opponent, Intramural wrestling champion Joe Sabbath upon hearing of this novel idea is reported to have expressed grave doubts of the effectiveness of this type of training in no uncertain terms. Sabbath moreover repeated his warning of a few days ago, reiterating that all the training in the world would not save the southern battler from the whipping he so richly deserved.

Your reporter promises to follow up all the statements made by both contestants and report them to the University students. Certainly this match, which has been the occasion of violent discussion on the campus for a whole year has excited more interest than any other single feature that is scheduled for the forthcoming Athletics Festival, the second in the history of McGill University.

Intramural League Practices Hockey

Class Managers Meet To Draw Up Schedule In Finlay's Office

The first practice of the coming hockey season in the Interfaculty league is scheduled to take place today. The scene of action is the Forum, and the time slated is from 12.30-1.30 p.m.

There is to be an exhibition game between Commerce and Arts and Science at the practice. It is also pointed out, may stressed, that from those who turn out, the representative faculty teams will be chosen. Therefore, all those whose interests lie in the sphere of interfaculty hockey should be sure to turn out for this exhibition and practice with their equipment.

Meeting Today

It is also pointed out that at 5.00 p.m., there will be a meeting, and it will be an important meeting, of faculty hockey managers, all of whom are requested to put in an appearance. The purpose of this scheduled meeting is to draw up the forthcoming schedule.

Since it has proved impossible to obtain the Forum rink more than once each week, it has been decided to have one half of all the games that the league will play at the Forum and the remainder on the campus.

During the past few years, it has become an increasingly difficult problem in collegiate sport to supply some type of substitute which can take the place of the intercollegiate sport of former years. One of the ideas which has proven most satisfactory is the formation of class and faculty teams to compete against one another and thus keep alive the traditions of old McGill, which are such a vital part of our university.

He: "Wait a minute, I thought I heard something break."
She: "Never mind. That was just my promise to mother."
—Brunswickian.

"I've been in a terrible state of consternation the last few days."
"Ever try eating bran?"
—Argosy.

WAX AND TRACKS... by The Martlet

Races Planned

Though the ground is not yet frozen hard the recent snowfalls tell us that it is high time to start thinking of competitive skiing.

The Laurentian Zone Ski Committee met last week and announced its plans for the coming season. The following is a tentative calendar for the winter.

- Jan. 14—Downhill at Mont Tremblant.
- Jan. 21—Slalom at St. Jovite.
- Feb. 4—Taschereau Race, Mont Tremblant.
- Feb. 11—Double Slalom at Ste. Adele.
- Feb. 25—Jumping at the Cote des Neiges Jump.
- Baldy Giant Slalom
- Mar. 11—Downhill on Mt. Orford.
- Mar. 18—Women's Giant Slalom at Quebec.
- Mar. 25—Zone Championships at Mont Tremblant.
- April 8—Sugar Derby on Mt. Baldy.

Program Announced

A joint meeting of the men and women interested in competitive skiing will be held on Wed., Nov. 2, when the program for this winter will be announced. Plans are being made to hold intramural races for the men and the women towards the end of February. Attempts are being made to secure the services of a coach specializing in racing technique.

Ski Patrol

The Zone Committee has appealed for volunteers for its Ski Patrol. The purpose of this patrol is to render First Aid to any injured skier. To become a member of the Patrol one must hold a St. John's Ambulance Senior Certificate, and must pass some elementary tests in controlled skiing. The importance of this work cannot be stressed too greatly, and the Patrol is open to both men and women. Further information on the Ski Patrol will be published in this column shortly. All those interested are in-

Toronto Wins 2-0 Over Canadiens

Pratt and Hill Score Deciding Leaf Goals On Saturday Night

The Toronto Maple Leafs, who played two men short in Saturday's game continued their mastery of the Montreal Canadiens, scoring a 2-0 victory which gave newcomer Frank McCool the first shutout of the National Hockey League season.

The victory also moved the Leafs back into their first place position, with a very slight one-point lead over the Habs. Last night's game was the third between the two teams this season and the Leafs have won all three.

Rookie McCool

Rookie McCool gave a superlative display in the nets to earn his shutout victory. The shutout was perilously in danger during the last 15 seconds of play when a fast shot bounced off the goalpost.

While over 13,000 enthusiastic fans cheered for McCool, another Toronto player went on the casualty list. He was right winger Lorne Carr. Sweeney Schriner has been in the hospital for a week with a leg injury. Rumour has it that Carr may be out of action for several weeks.

The Leafs had 13 players ready but only used 12, young Tom O'Neill on the ice for only a few minutes in the last period. Morris was still idle because of a shoulder injury he suffered two weeks ago.

Babe Pratt

It was Babe Pratt who started the Leafs in their streak of scoring, when he stickhandled his way past the whole Canadiens team, right through Durnam and scored the first goal in the third period. The other winning goal came from Mel Hill.

In the third period the score was 2-1 for Canadiens. Richard and Bouchard scored for the Canucks.

Invited to come to the meeting on Wednesday.

Meeting Soon

All those men and women interested in competitive skiing are urged to come to the meeting on Wed., Nov. 29, at 7.30 in the Music Room of the Union. Remember, this

Events for Gymnasts

Club Meets Regularly For Practices

It was announced that every Monday and Thursday afternoons at 5.15 regular practices for the Gymnastic Club will be held in the Gymnasium. All able Gymnasts are asked to turn out regularly for preparation of the coming activities.

The following men are particularly requested by the manager to turn out for the next workout, Joe Battisa, Ted Baker, Bill Brooks, Claude Boyer, Colin Campbell, Robert Gill, Cecil MacDonald, Bud Marsh, Ronnie McKinnon, Reg Lyn, Tom Peak, Bob Perkins, Sherry Raymond, Bud Risk, Eli Solomon, Ross Swindon, Hal Watlington, and Hugh Warburton.

Any student who wishes to join the club is invited to do so by simply turning up at the next practices clothed in gym togs and come prepared to turn out as often as possible, stated the club manager.

meeting is not only for those who have already raced, but also for those who think that they might like to participate in some meets this winter.

"How did he treat the feudal slaves?"
"Oh, they lived in a terrible manor."
—Queen's Journal.

"Hooray!" yelled the rabbit as he came from the brush fire. "I've been de-furred."
—Athenacum.

Tailors to gentlemen and their sons for half a century.

CIVILIAN
NAVAL
AIR-FORCE
AND
MILITARY TAILORS

Mezzanine Floor - Dominion Sq. Bldg.
1010 St. Catherine St. West. - L.A. 1524

Nightly Music

ENJOY THE GOOD THINGS OF LIFE IN THE HOMEY ATMOSPHERE

OF THE EXCELLENT FOOD Continental Style

Every day different, delicious LUNCH and DINNER Full course SPECIALS 45 cts. up

Some of our Dainties: (Full Course)

Frankfurter and Sauer Kraut . . . 55c.
Fried Liver and Bacon . . . 60c.
Pork Chop . . . 55c.

1192a ST. CATHERINE ST. W.
One block west of Peel St. (South side)

MONTREAL'S LEADING COAL RETAILERS
FARQUHAR ROBERTSON LIMITED

614 ST. JAMES STREET W.—MARquette 7511

The School for Democracy Presents:

DYSON CARTER

Noted Canadian Author and Scientist.

Author of: "Men, Machines & Microbes"
"So That Man May Prosper"
"Russia's Secret Weapon"

Subject: "SCIENCE CHANGES LIFE"

MONTREAL HIGH SCHOOL—
WED., NOV. 29th, 8.15 P.M.

ADMISSION FREE

ANNUAL KAMPUS LIFE KONTEST

SHUTTERBUGS!
This Is Your Big Chance!

Send in your photographs to the Union Tuck Shop for publication in "Old McGill."

YOU MAY BE THE WINNER!

McGill's Military Notebook

Continued from Page One

later, indicates the liveliness of the action at this time.

Wounded over Tobruk in June, he was later awarded the D.F.C. for his work in this period.

Back in Britain in 1943, Conrad was reported missing in August after a sweep by fighter planes over the English Channel and the coast of France. Seventeen days passed and hope for his survival had almost gone when a telegram to his family from the British Vice-Consul at a coastal town in Spain, announced that he was alive and well, and would, before long, be safe again in England. Even yet, for valid reasons of security, the particulars of his escape on this occasion may not be published. Soon he reached England, as the telegram had promised, and within a few weeks, he returned on leave to Canada.

Returning to duty overseas, Conrad became Commanding Officer of R.C.A.F. Red Indian Fighter Squadron, and on August 10 of this year, was awarded the Bar to his D.F.C.

Note:

In the first article of this series, on November 13, we stated our belief that Troopers Bogdan and Julius Stachiewicz and Ordinary Seaman Stefan Frankowski were the only McGill men serving in the Polish Forces. A reader of the Daily has called to our attention the fact that Trooper Feliks Poznanski, of the Polish Armoured Division, attached to the First Canadian Army, is also a McGill man—engineering 1942-1943. He was wounded this summer in Normandy. Bogdan Stachiewicz, as our article noted, was wounded in the Battle of Falaise. His brother, Julius, is now reported to have been wounded in the fighting in Holland, November 7, 1944.

Craft Demonstrations Are Shown

Continued from Page One

It cannot come apart any more. The "Waffle," "Honey Comb," "Card" and "Inkle" looms are shown and their finished products with them. All processes are explained in pamphlets.

The Household Household objects have an important share in the Exhibition. Lace doilies, made of an old, intricate process, are shown. Tablecloths, embroidered in cutwork, tall, silver plated cures, salad bowls, candlesticks, egg cups, fur rugs, spice boxes, all are exhibited.

The rugs are part of an exhibit of Indian crafts: fur mocassins, gloves, statuettes, and jewellery made of painted almond and peach seeds.

The Camera And The Brush Most numerous are the photographs. There are many portraits, and still more nature stills. Prints are glossy, dull, sepia. The next largest is the painting and drawing section. There are a number of modern paintings, several landscapes, and a few portraits.

All the exhibits have been done by McGill students and staff members.

Redmen Face ROAF Flyers Tonight

Continued from Page One

expected to be closely watched by the McGill players in their checking. Aulclair in goal has been added to the squad which formerly was very weak in goalkeeping.

Curtain time for the first game of the doubleheader is scheduled for 8.15. Navy versus Army and the McGill men against Air Force. McGill students are slated to gather, per custom, on the East side of the rink.

Movie Review

Continued from Page Two

featuring, as usual the incomparable Bugs Bunny.

—E. G. H.

AT THE PRINCESS

If you regard the plot of a musical comedy as absolutely nothing but an excuse for lavish production numbers, then you will probably find "Sensations of 1945" enjoyable. It has most of the prerequisites for that type of entertainment—the usual list of specialty performers (Hubert Castle on the tight-wire; the Palenberg Bears; the Christlans), two good bands (Woody Herman and Cab Calloway), and a line of well-dressed (or well-undressed) chorus girls.

The story involves Eleanor Powell as a Broadway musical star who also makes good as a press agent to the amazement of Dennis O'Keefe who disapproves all the way through, but ends up in her arms. The press-agent-in-the-excess this picture uses for the acts of the various entertainers, and, on the whole, they seem less dragged-in-by-the-hair than usual. The production numbers are so lavish they become confusing.

The companion feature, "Talk about Jacqueline" is prefaced by an apologetic note about 'the olden golden days before the war' when people with money could behave like damn fools. It needs the apology.

—I. A.

I.U.C. Sponsors Tonight' Concert

Continued from Page One

ria." He will be accompanied by Dorothy Breiman.

Margaret Gilmour, mezzo soprano, student of the McGill Conservatory of Music, who will sing Michael Head's "A Blackbird Singing," Munroe's "My Lovely Cella" and Campbell-Tipton's "The Crying of Water." Her accompanist is Mrs. Victor Knowles.

Dan Mergler, pianist, third year science student, who will play Chopin's "Sonata in B flat Minor," Opus 35.

Barbara Scott, lyric soprano, student of the McGill Conservatory of Music, who will sing Franz Lenar's "Villia," Dvorak's "Songs My Mother Taught Me," and Charles Spross' "Yesterday And Today." She will be accompanied by Mrs. Victor Knowles.

The concert will be closed with the singing of "O Canada" in both French and English. Harvie Walford, of McGill will be in charge

McGill University Training Detachment of the Canadian Red Cross Corps ORDERS

Part 1, Section 4.

PARADES.

The Detachment will parade in the Sir Arthur Currie Gymnasium on Tuesday, November 28th, 1944, at 1800 hours. Attendance will be taken on the hour.

Part 2, Section 4.

PROMOTIONS.

- To be lance corporals, effective November 28th, 1944; A. Green, J. Mason, A. Scherzer.
- To be corporals, effective November 28th, 1944; D. Hopkin, B. Temkin.
- To be sergeants, effective November 28th, 1944; N. Dawson, B. Jones.

NOTICES.

- There is still an urgent demand for volunteers to work in the Red Cross Blood Clinic. This is very important work, as well as interesting, and should be of interest to all those planning to transfer to the Office Administration Section of the Red Cross later on.
- All those girls who wish to be exempt from the First Aid course will have to present their St. John's Ambulance Certificates to the Commandant either at drill or during her office hours. (5.00-6.00 P.M. daily except Tuesdays, in the Women's Union Room in R.V.C.)
- Will those girls who registered with the Red Cross Corps at the beginning of the term, and who have since found it impossible to continue in the work of the Corps, please, give your names in to the Commandant, so that your names will be taken off the records, and no further plans will be made for you.
- The NCO's mentioned above will have to be at parade on Tuesday a few minutes before the hour, so that they may collect their Roll books before they go on parade.

STELLA N. BLAIR,
Acting Commandant, C.R.C.C. 5, U.T.D.

of the lighting. The McGill Red Wings will usher.

Students' Council and Scarlet Key Posts Announced

Continued from Page One

Doherty, Brian
Van Patter, Terry
Webster, Sydney G.
Worfor, Herbert
Medicine
Gillespie, Clark
Goldbloom, Victor C.
Nickerson, Granville
Engineering
Balfour, Richard J.
Glassman, Alex
Robinson, P. J.
Shiffman, Melvin I.

Theology

Brushett, Donald.

Law

Lapointe, Marc.

R.V.C.

Cole, Shirley.

Fisher, Claire.

Michell, Kina.

Commerce

Becker, Bruce.

Blitslein, Harry.

Courey, Maurice.

Nowers, Alan P.

Dentistry

Ward, Bruce.

For The Debating Union Society

J. Hemens.

I. Rosenfeld.

FOR THE SCARLET KEY GROUP "A"

Engineering

Brodylo, Stanley

Douglas, Jack

Fox, Charles J.

Grant, Peter S.

Pryde, Morrison

Proctor, George E. M.

Arts & Science

Biggs, Hugh T.

Clogg, D. K.

Doherty, Brian

Gale, John R.

Lefcoe, Neville M.

MacAuley, Malcolm G. S.

Parsons, David

Van Patter, Terry

Worfor, Herbert

Walter, Arthur B.

Architecture

Affleck, Raymond

Baker, Edwin D.

Cole, Ralph E.

Fischer, Erick.

Medicine

MacCallum, Evan A.

Commerce

Lavey, John C.

Nowers, Alan P.

Wilder, William

Law

Dentistry

MacDougall, George.

FOR THE SCARLET KEY GROUP B

Engineering

Dohan, John T.

Griffin, George.

Ince, Geoffrey W.

Knight, Allan.

Koch, Donald E.

Krashinsky, Dave.

Kunigiskis, A. A.

Lau, Neil A.

Lindsay, Gordon.

Schneider, George.

Stubbs, John.

New SCM Group Meets Today

Engineer's Role Will Be Discussed

A study group for Engineers and those intending to enter industry will hold its opening meeting tonight at 7 p.m. The meeting, which will be held at the S.C.M. House, 3574 University St., will have as its topic for discussion "The Role of the Engineer in Wartime." The speaker at the meeting will be Mr. J. L. Bieler, who is a member of the Engineering Institute of Canada. Mr. Bieler graduated in Mechanical Engineering in 1923.

The purpose of the group is to study and examine the responsibilities that an Engineer has to society, and to determine the best means whereby those duties can be fulfilled. The group will meet every other week, and several prominent Engineers have been asked to address the gatherings and lead the discussions.

Those wishing to have supper can make arrangements by phoning PL. 1156. Supper is served at 6:15 p.m. at a price of 40 cents.

bara Jones, Betty Beaubien, Joyce Beatty, Janet Campbell.

In first year Physiotherapy Joannary Dever was elected by acclamation as representative, while Nancy Parkinson of first year Physical Ed. was elected as representative of the M.S.P.E.

Trip to Mexico To Be Discussed

Continued from Page One

this Summer. The Canadian group was entertained with dinners, parties, dances, and free trips for the day and for the week-end.

Some of the customs were strange to the Canadians but the friendliness of the people made up for the new food, the unaccustomed hours, and the strange ways of a new city.

It is hoped that Michael Brecher will talk of his return journey by bus through the United States. He stopped overnight at all the big cities from San Antonio and Louisville to New York.

In Mexico and on the journey Michael Brecher had some interesting adventures. He made many friends among the Mexicans and was one of the few members of the group who did actually show up at the University. He is expected to discuss all this and more on Thursday.

Wilkes Dies at Toronto

Continued from Page One

Germany and England. Mr. Wilks was wounded in 1917 at Arras and was in hospitals for a year. He served with the 7th Division and the "Buffs" and won the Military Cross. He was staff lieutenant and liaison officer with the French police at the time that King George V stayed with the 1st Army.

Since the beginning of this war, Mr. Wilks has served as chairman of the Citizens' Committee for the Troops in Training.

He played for the Boston Symphony orchestra, and toured Holland, Germany, Belgium, Australia, the West Indies and Canada.

SKI CONDITIONING CLASS

A class in Ski Conditioning Exercises for Women will be held in the R.V.C. Upper Hall on Fridays at 4 p.m., starting December 1 and continuing through December 15. If you are interested please sign up on the R.V.C. Notice Board.

Notices

Lost

Brown Sheaffer Fountain-pen (piston-action). Phone Gus Ritcher, LA. 2344.

Lots

Writing board in the Electrical Eng. Lab. Engineering Building. Will the person who found it please return it to Rodolfo Gurdian, Chem. Eng. 4, Douglas Hall.

Wanted

Elementary Trigonometry by Miller and Rourke. Please phone John Dohan, FI. 5716.

Patrons Include Faculty Members

Continued from Page One

on their studies under very difficult circumstances. It provides books for the prisoners of war, aids refugee students of the migrating universities of China. The I.S.S. is planning an extensive rehabilitation program for students whereby they will be given help in rebuilding the bombed out universities and in returning to their studies.

The French-Canadian organization, whichlike I.S.S., is a branch of World Student Relief in Geneva, is known as the Federation Canadienne des Universités Catholiques. Representing the student relief organization as one of the patrons of tonight's concert is Daniel Johnson, president of the Caisse de Secours aux Etudiants Victimes de la Guerre.

Listed as patrons from McGill, are Professor R. D. MacLennan of the Department of Philosophy, Professor C. P. Martin of the Department of Anatomy, and Professor Forrest Laviolette of the Department of Sociology. From the University of Montreal are Professor Louis-Charles Simard of the Department of Anatomy - Pathologie, Professor Jules Labarre, president of the graduates society of the U. of M., and Sylvain Cousineau, president of the A.G.E.U.M., the U. of M. counterpart of the Students' Society at McGill.

The concert is open to all students and members of the faculties of both universities.

Boss: "Say! Who told you that you could neglect your office duties just because I give you a kiss now and then?"

Secretary: "My lawyer."

Mike: I think we ran over a guy. Slug: We did, shall I go back and run him over again? He's still breathing.

That Wath Juth What He Thaid When a midwestern reporter turned in a story about a farmer's loss of 2,025 pigs by theft, an alert copyreader thought the figure was pretty high and phoned the farmer to check up on it. "Did you lose 2,025 pigs?" he asked. And, when the distraught farmer answered

"Yeth," the newspaper thanked him and changed the copy to make the loss two sows and 25 pigs.

Have Your Suits and Overcoats

Custom Tailored By Our Own Tailors

We also have Overcoats Ready-to-Wear

McLAUGHLIN AND HARRISON
1461 McGill College Ave.

POWER'S PROMPT & PUNCTUAL PRINTERY

LIMITED

WE HAVE BEEN DOING MCGILL FRATERNITY WORK FOR THE LAST 23 YEARS

Patronize your Advertisers

DEPENDABILITY

"Rush Jobs Our Delight"

362 NOTRE DAME W. LA. 7188

FALL FELTS

are highly in favor among well-groomed men. Well made, neatly finished, they feature all the newest fads in styles and colors... and above all they give real wear. Drop in at one of our stores and try one on.

Most Michael Styles

$4.00 to $7.50

Of course all MICHAUD HATS are "Rain-Away" Processed, which protects them from showers.

Stetsons $6.50 to $15.00

911 BLEURY LA. 3286 (NEAR CRAIG)

1257 UNIVERSITY LA. 2716 (UNIVERSITY TOWER)

THEOLOGY

WEDNESDAY

Clow, W. Griffith, A. L.
Butler, M.

ENGINEERING

WEDNESDAY

Hall, P. R. Pichette, V.
Nathanson, M. Winter, E. E.

M. S. P. E.

WEDNESDAY

Thompson, K. R.

PHYSIOTHERAPY

WEDNESDAY

Coke, M. L. Johnson, J. R.

NORSES

WEDNESDAY

Arendt, V. E. Pinchbeck, M.
Armstrong, N. E. Reeve, P. E.
Gillespie, E. H. Holder, J. M.
MacDonald, F. M.

ARTS

WEDNESDAY

Baxter, W. J. Lawand, E. N.
Bydlsell, H. Narizzano, A.
Fonseca, O. W. Wasserman, C. U.
Goter, E. Winter, F. E.
Ker, R. H.

MEET ME

at the

UNION

for a

GAME OF SNOOKER